

GRIFFIN

20TH

May we the Senior class of 1951, as we step out into the world which will soon be entrusted to our keeping, be ever guided by the rays of this Single White Shaft, so that we may seek and bring ever nearer the goal which it symbolizes, the world peace to which we dedicate this book.

"A teacher affects eternity; he can never tell where his influence stops."

Leader, Counselor, and Friend -- the teaching staff at Buchtel High fills the job of all three. Our faculty spend as much time participating in extra curricular activities as they spend in the classroom. The deep interest in students' problems and welfare is evident not only during school hours, but at all times. At every school function you can pick out numerous teachers digging in and lending a helpful hand: they take tickets at games, chaperon school dances, sponsor activities, and do a thousand and one other jobs. By working hand in hand with the students, the faculty have strengthened their inspirational guidance by being "one of us."

The Activities Committee, composed of students and faculty members, plans the school's program for the year. Mr. Schneyer, Miss Mooney, Nancy Evans, Laurel Johnson, and Bill Baird are even now discussing possible dates for a paid assembly.

"Today we follow,
Tomorrow we lead."

Organizing Senior activities, collecting class dues, and listening patiently to criticisms and complaints were among the many jobs of our class officers. Left to right: Julie deMaine, secretary; Bob Lape, president; Aristotle Bellios, vice-president; Tom Creed, treasurer.

The Senior Griffin Committee, led by editor, Nancy Crane; picture editor, Nancy Hunter; business manager, Tom Creed; and advertising manager Dick Wertz, worked tirelessly on planning, writing, and editing this year's book. Those who gave their time were:

Ruth Harwitz	Marilyn Neuman
Virginia Retter	Roger McCormick
Julie deMaine	Barbara Metzger
Jeanne Powers	Julia Sherman
Tom Farnbauch	Eugene Oestreicher
Jim Hildreth	Jim Smith
Sally Maxon	Ralph Greenlee

A HISTORY OF THE SENIOR CLASS OF 1951

On a bright September morning four short years ago, 244 bright-eyed freshmen trudged for the first time up the pathway to Buchtel High. Now, in the June of 1951, 205 tired seniors, who were once those very freshmen, are trudging for the last time up that same pathway.

For four full years these students have graced the halls of B H S. For four years their laughter and tears have mingled with those of the years gone by.

What do the seniors see as they review their high school days? What have they done? What are they leaving behind them as they pass into the World of Life? ..

The first day at Buchtel was strange and hectic, but, as the weeks went by, the new freshmen of 1947 became accustomed to the grind and the carefree fun.

Their first football season was thrilling to them. The freshman squad did well, lead by such able players as Tim Rauh and Mike Stiller, they came through with a final record of three wins and two Homecoming Court members elected by the class were Julie de Maine and Virginia Retter. Ginny later elected to Student Council, along with Dick Wertz.

In late November came basketball and swimming. On the court, the freshmen did very well, losing only three games all year. Jerry Suess and Jim Usner led in the scoring. In the pool, freshmen also had a good season, with Nick Hathaway, Loren Stake, and Jo. Myers leading them.

Toward the end of the winter sports season, Dick Wertz and Jim Usner were chosen by the class for the King B Court.

The spring sports - golf, track, baseball and tennis - were ushered in in April. Outstanding golfers for the years the class has been at B H S are Morris Berson, George Bruggemier, and Duke Stump. Some outstanding track team members have been Burt Nobil, Jim Usner, Jack Troyan, John Verdon, and Bob Adams, while Gene Ostracher has upheld tennis as a school sport. Gene Sturdevant, Mike Stiller, Chris Palavronoff, Tom Hartley, Art Headlough, and Jack McCracken have led in baseball.

Freshman representatives on the May Court were Marlene Hallock and Nancy Hunter.

The year soon ended, and, leaving their freshman days behind them, the students looked forward to being elevated to the supreme and sophisticated rank of "sophomores".

II

As sophomores, they entered more into the regular activities of the school. Cornwoles and Y-Teens chose Ginny Retter and Julie de Maine, respectively, as presidents. The two girls were also chosen as Student Council representatives with Dick Wertz and Aristotle 'Tally' Bellion.

The football season again brought a flurry of excitement, especially since, once in a while, sophomores Jim Usner, Mike Stiller, Bill Hoffman and others played in regular varsity games.

At the close of the season, Barbara Horton and Laurel Johnson enjoyed the honor of being on the Homecoming Court.

Basketball and swimming both had successful seasons. Basketball players of importance in the class were Jim Usner, Jerry Suess, Chris Palavronoff, and Jack McCracken, while Wade MacManus joined and was outstandingly successful on the swimming squad.

Jerry Suess and Jim Usner served on the King B Court in February.

At the close of a successful spring sports season, Janice Lilley and Charlotte Culbertson were honored on the May Court.

Again another year had passed swiftly by.

III

As they became juniors, finally they realized that they were upperclassmen and that their senior year was in sight.

During this year Nancy Crane, Tally Bellion, Julie de Maine and Dick Wertz served on Student Council, Julie and Tally held offices.

Football season was the most successful this class had known. The team won four, lost four, and tied one, later they went on to the city series playoffs.

Homecoming was a special event for the juniors, for one of them was chosen queen. Barbara Horton received that honor; juniors on her court were Ginny Retter, Ebbie McGinness, and Julie de Maine.

At the close of successful basketball and swimming seasons, Jim Usner served for the third time on the King B Court, while also chosen was Jack McCracken.

May Queen attendants from the class were Barbara Treen and Jeannie Powers.

At the end of the year the class elected officers and became organized. They held a class picnic and ordered their rings.

And they, the once lowly freshmen, were about to become seniors.

IV

So here they are, seniors--the Class of '51. Their wonderful senior year is fully recorded for you in this yearbook.

They've had their leaders and their followers, their scholars and their dunces. A few names stand out in certain fields; Scholars-Charles Maidenick, Sharon Gross, Ruth Harwitz, Speakers - Nancy Hunter, Barbara Myers, Dick Wertz, Cheerleaders-Nancy Crane, Connie Calli, Joyce McConnell, Artist - Jack Troyan. There are too many more to mention, but, as you can see, this class is a success.

Their history is here. Here are their four years, an impressive record, to be sure.

These are the seniors.

Each year a group of students from the upper third of the Senior Class, chosen for their qualities of scholarship, leadership, character, and service, become members of the National Honor Society. At the impressive ceremony Donna Rukenbrod and Jere Paul light candles as a part of the induction service.

Chosen by the group, the National Honor Society officers -- president, Julia Sherman; vice-president, Aristotle Bellios; secretary, Sue Banahan; and treasurer, Julia deMaine -- worked with Mr. Schneyer to plan the induction ceremony.

The image shows a page of handwritten musical notation on ten staves. The notation is in a cursive, historical style, likely from a 17th or 18th-century manuscript. It includes various musical symbols such as clefs, notes, rests, and bar lines. The handwriting is somewhat faded and the paper shows signs of age.

Always busy answering the phone, typing transcripts, keeping attendance records straight, and attending to daily problems are Grace Weber and Katherine Mohs, office clerks.

Keeping a school clean is no easy job, yet our custodians manage to maintain the building and grounds in top condition the year around. The whole student body extends a word of thanks to these men: Joe Jaber, Tom Derson, James Kirk, James Pryor, and George Pryor for their part in making our school a school to be proud of.

Most people have a hard time preparing a good meal at low cost for three or four people, but this would present no problem to our cooks--Mrs. Hinkle, Mrs. Harrison, Mrs. Richey, and Mrs. Patterson - who prepare lunch for over eight hundred students a day. Missing from picture: Ruth Harnish.

The high-point of the year for the Dramatic Club is a play, which is usually presented at an Open House. Pat Farmer, left, is applying makeup to Walter Kane, while Jack Longenecker and Peggy Mitchell apply make-up to Bob Moore.

This year the speech students have for the first time organized a chapter of the National Forensic League. Working on speech correction are Jim Stoddard, Marlene Milar, Cynthia Lennon, Phyllis Alsapach, and Oliver Moles.

Participating in a style show for a Senior Y Teen program are Sue Arnold, Shirley Ritchie, Charlotte Calbertson, Virginia Retter, Betty Butts, and Rose Marie Smith.

Outstanding among the Jr Y-Teen projects this year was the collection for CARE packages sent overseas. Working on this are Lynne Miller, Norma Ferriot and Sherry Brison. The art room is the scene of poster making. Polly Kistler, Sally Clements and Janice Burgner outline publicity for their dance.

Junior and Senior Comwoles, the service clubs at Buchtel, helped to make Homecoming colorful this year by selling Shake-A-Rood. Arranging for the sale are Judy Barr, Gloria Horne, Paulette DeOrion, Sally Maxon, pres., Pat Moran, and Melva Minck.

One of the Hi-Y projects is the annual clean-up of the school and grounds in which the students participate. Disposing of the debris thrown from the lockers are Bob Snyder, Bob Patterson, pres., Tom Farnbauch, and Chuck Sadler.

Students give time for the school in many ways. Among these are treasury, library, and office help. Leon Jenkins and Mary Goumas, treasury staff, count money while Waldeen Oglesby, library, checks the absence list with Joan Spalding, office helper.

Physics students carry their interests outside of the class period by attending Physics Club. Absorbed in an experiment are Jerry Zaslove, Susan Cole, Lois Ahl, and Fred Frease.

To further their studies in chemistry, members of the Chemistry Club hear speakers, take trips, see movies, and perform experiments. Working in the lab are Ken Gart, Bill Lutz, Pat Fanning, Vivian Myers and Jim Hildreth.

Heath Valentine, Georgette Janag, Pete Demming, and Sue Banahan, members of the newly formed square dance club, the Promenaders, demonstrate "Diving for the Oyster."

Homecoming week-end is a thrill for every student but particularly for the girls who have been elected to the court. At half-time of the big game, in which we spanked Kenmore 38 to 7, this year's queen, Ellen Magerkurth, was crowned by Elizabeth McGinness. In addition to being honored at the game the girls were introduced at the dance that evening and presented with silver bracelets. Freshmen on the court were Nancy Green and Betty Brock; sophomores were Carol deBruin and Lora Rose; juniors were Rose Marie Smith, Lynne Way, and Pat Mullins; and seniors were Connie Calli, Nancy Crane, and Barbara Horton.

The 1951 King B court was presented at the intermission of the Y-Teen Valentine's Dance. Bill Hoffman, king, was crowned by his first knight, Bill Mears. Other members of the court were Dick Rea and Bill Lewis, freshmen, Jon Weingart and Joe Magyar, sophomores; Dave Burnham and Stewart Wenger, juniors, and Wade Mac Manus, Tom Creed, Dick Wertz, and Fred Jackson, seniors.

This year's May Court was presented in a most attractive manner at assemblies held at the home of the hostesses, Mrs. Elizabeth McGinnis, assisted by Carrie C. Hill and Pat. M. M. and Anna Fichtner, hostesses, St. Michael's and All Saints' churches, Francis MacMorgan and St. John's church, and St. John's, J. J. deMare, Virginia R. deMare and St. John's church, and St. John's church.

Under the direction of Mrs. Stoneburner, Mrs. Boesch, and Mr. Fortbrake the May Day program was a huge success. The Girl Clubs, orchestra, band, and numerous soloists participated in the festivities. The senior and senior girls are pictured in the top photograph and the orchestra in the lower picture.

With the graduation of this Senior Class, Buchtel loses one of the most powerful and best football squads in its annals. Although they finished second in the city series race, the only thing which halted Buchtel short of the Thanksgiving Championship game was a much disputed play in the play off semi finals. This play will be remembered as long as football is played at Buchtel, and the South victory over Garfield in the Charity game is now history. It was a terrific season, highlighted by the two tension packed contests with South.

This June Class includes eleven graduating lettermen. Bill Mears and John Verdon were honored with first-string all-city team berth. Bill Hoffman, Jim Usner, and Bob Adams were also placed on the all city team, although on lower strings. The remaining lettermen who enjoyed a great season are Bob Charlton, Jim Clements, Fred Jackson, Tim Rauh, Burt Nobil, and Sumner Stilwell. If our very able Coach Fred Cook can do as well with the '51 team, Buchtel will have a football championship.

Enthusiastic crowds, spectacular plays, and cheer leaders leading peppy yells ---all these contributed to our successful season. This year's cheerleading squad consisted of Connie Galli and Nancy Crane, Co-Captains, Barbara Schaltz, Joyce McConnell, Beth Abbott, Pat Jenkins, Barbara Myers and Bob Crankshaw.

Football games just wouldn't be complete without a colorful half-time show. The Buchtel Band and Majorettes spent endless hours working up unique formations and routines. This year's squad consisted of Barbara Horton, Charlotte Garaway, Katherine Mokler, Carol Price, Barbara Turbeville; head majorette, Pat Smith, Lora Rose, and Alese Brooks.

As the rippling nets and bouncing basketballs moved into "summer hybernation" and all victories were sifted from defeats, the dribblers finally broke even with a 7-7 season. The only Seniors holding down the fort were Jim Usner and Christy Palavararov--the rest were sophomores and juniors.

 Back Row: Coach VanSickle, T. Hartley, B. Mackusick, D. Thomassin, D. Roush, N. Bosworth, J. Long.

BHS TANKERS SPLASH TO CHAMPIONSHIP! Of extreme importance in a swimming meet is the ability to get off to a good start, as illustrated by Ed Mannister and Bob Lahman. The powerful breast stroke of Wade MacManus is typical of the prowess of this year's team.

Many warm afternoons a crowd may be seen gathered around the baseball diamond in our north field, where nine vigorous athletes practice, warm up, and at a cry from the umpire "PLAY BALL."

 B. Beard, H. Wellock, H. Raynes, J. Harig

On sunny afternoons this year's tennis team, while hurrying over to Perkins Courts looks forward to the day when our own courts will be completed, ready to use. Pictured are Ray Federman, Jerry Zaslave, Harris Brown, Joe Schrank and Eugene Oestricher.

Klaus Sorkin, George Landis, Sam Prosser, Les Lawrence and Fred Frost represent our local golf team. Driving their way across greens and fairways, these fellows are out plugging for Buchtel in all kinds of weather.

HAMMEL BUSINESS UNIVERSITY

Production for Defense calls for hundreds of clerks, file clerks, stockkeepers, time clerks, stenographers, traffic clerks, payroll clerks, clerk typists, cost accountants and other such personnel with specialized training. To help fill such calls, Hammel Business University offers to a student interested and especially recommends to high school commercial graduates one or more of the following Accelerated Courses:

- 12 Weeks Courses: a. Typewriting or Comptometry
b. Clerk - Typist
c. Transcribing Machine Operator

- 18 Weeks Courses: a. Bookkeeper-Typist
b. Payroll Clerk
c. Calculating Machines Operator
d. Traffic Clerk

- 24 Weeks Courses: a. Production Cost Record Clerk
b. Clerk-Stenographer
c. Typewriting and Comptometry

These Accelerated programs should not be confused with regular Diploma Courses, however, Certificates of Proficiency will be awarded for each one satisfactorily completed, and credits so earned will be accepted on Diploma Courses. Accelerated courses will start with the Spring Term, March 12 and 13—after that date students may enter Day School any Monday or Evening School any Tuesday.

A SPECIAL BULLETIN giving job description, subjects, and cost of fees, tuition and books for each accelerated course has been prepared, and is yours for the asking. Telephone Jefferson 3377 or write, or call at the school office, 57 East Market Street, Akron 8, Ohio.
